REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION

Plaintiff JAIME MENDEZ CUELLAR, acting pro se and while a prisoner confined in the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, Correctional Institutions Division, has filed suit pursuant to Title 42, United States Code, section 1983 complaining against the above-referenced defendants and has been granted permission to proceed in forma pauperis.

Plaintiff alleges that, on or about February 19, 1999, while assigned to the Goree Unit in Huntsville, he submitted a sick call request complaining of pain to his knee and shoulder resulting from a fall from his bunk. Plaintiff complains the physician who treated him at that time and those who subsequently treated him, including his present physician at the Clements Unit, all failed to provide adequate medical care in that they did not refer him to a chiropractor at his request, did not perform one or more MRIs, but relied on x-rays, and did not promptly provide him with physical therapy. Plaintiff claims he has gone through eight years of suffering and discomfort and will suffer irreparable damages because of his condition.

Plaintiff requests declaratory judgment, injunctive relief, and compensatory and punitive damages. By way of injunctive relief, plaintiff requests an order requiring defendant LIVINGSTON “to address grievances [sic] relating to violations of the constitution brought before him;” defendant RODEEN “to address grievances [sic] when the constitution violation is addressed . . .;” defendant NUSZ to respond to complaints by not letting the physician continue to inflict cruel and unusual punishment on inmates; and defendant UY to “not experiment with drugs on inmates if he cannot diagnose the problem and get a second opinion from a specialist outside . . .”

JUDICIAL REVIEW

When a prisoner seeks redress from a governmental entity or officer or employee of a governmental entity, the Court must evaluate the complaint and dismiss it without service of process, Ali v. Higgs, 892 F.2d 438, 440 (5th Cir. 1990), if it is frivolous¹, malicious, fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, or seeks monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief. 28 U.S.C. 1915A; 28 U.S.C. 1915(e)(2). The same standards will support dismissal of a suit brought under any federal law by a prisoner confined in any jail, prison, or other correctional facility, where such suit concerns prison conditions. 42 U.S.C. 1997e(c)(1). A Spears hearing need not be conducted for every pro se complaint. Wilson v. Barrientos, 926 F.2d 480, 483 n.4 (5th Cir. 1991)².

¹A claim is frivolous if it lacks an arguable basis in law or in fact, Booker v. Koonce, 2 F.3d 114, 115 (5th Cir. 1993); see, Denton v. Hernandez, 504 U.S. 25, 112 S.Ct. 1728, 1733, 118 L.Ed.2d 340 (1992).

²*Cf. Green v. McKaskle*, 788 F.2d 1116, 1120 (5th Cir. 1986) ("Of course, our discussion of Spears should not be interpreted to mean that all or even most prisoner claims require or deserve a Spears hearing. A district court should be able to dismiss as frivolous a significant number of prisoner suits on the complaint alone or the complaint together with the Watson questionnaire.").

The Magistrate Judge has reviewed the facts alleged by plaintiff to determine if his claim presents grounds for dismissal or should proceed to answer by defendants.

THE LAW AND ANALYSIS

“[D]eliberate indifference to serious medical needs of prisoners constitutes the ‘unnecessary and wanton infliction of pain’ . . . proscribed by the Eighth Amendment.” Such indifference may be “manifested by prison doctors in their response to the prisoner's needs or by prison guards in intentionally denying or delaying access to medical care or intentionally interfering with the treatment once prescribed.” Estelle v. Gamble, 429 U.S. 97, 104, 97 S.Ct. 285, 291, 50 L.Ed.2d 251 (1976).

Deliberate indifference is defined as a failure to act where prison officials have knowledge of a substantial risk of serious harm to inmate health or safety. Farmer v. Brennan, 511 U.S. 825, 114 S.Ct. 1970, 1981, 128 L.Ed.2d 811 (1994). However, not every claim of inadequate or improper medical treatment is a violation of the Constitution, Estelle v. Gamble, 429 U.S. 97, 105, 97 S.Ct. 285, 291, 50 L.Ed.2d 251 (1976); nor does a disagreement with a doctor over the method and result of medical treatment require a finding of deliberate indifference. Spears v. McCotter, 766 F.2d 179 (5th Cir. 1985). “[N]egligent medical care does not constitute a valid section 1983 claim.” Mendoza v. Lynaugh, 989 F.2d 191, 195 (5th Cir. 1993). Further, merely alleging that a prison doctor should have undertaken additional diagnostic measures or utilized an alternative method of treatment does not elevate a claim to constitutional dimension. Varnado v. Collins, 920 F.2d 320, 321 (5th Cir. 1991).

Plaintiff’s pro se complaint, even when liberally construed, states only a claim of negligence against defendant UY, his physician at the Clements Unit. Section 1983 is not a general tort statute, and mere negligence does not satisfy the standard for liability under section 1983. Mendoza v. Lynaugh, 989 F.2d 191, 195 (5th Cir. 1993); Daniels v. Williams, 474 U.S. 327, 331-34, 106 S.Ct. 662, 664-67, 88 L.Ed.2d 662 (1986). Plaintiff's claim against defendant UY lacks an arguable basis in law and is frivolous. Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319, 109 S.Ct. 1827, 104 L.Ed.2d 338 (1989).

As to defendant NUSZ, the Head of Nursing at the Clements Unit, defendant RODEEN, the Warden of the Clements Unit, and defendant LIVINGSTON, the Executive Director of TDCJ-CID, plaintiff's complaint is that they did not adequately respond to his grievances and complaints. To the extent plaintiff's claims against these defendants are based on their supervisory positions, the acts of subordinates trigger no individual section 1983 liability for supervisory officers. Champagne v. Jefferson Parish Sheriff's Office, 188 F.3d 312, 314(5th Cir. 1999). A supervisor may be held liable only when he is either personally involved in the acts causing the deprivation of a person's constitutional rights, or there is a sufficient causal connection between the official's act and the constitutional violation sought to be redressed. Thompkins v. Belt, 828 F.2d 298, 304 (5th Cir.1987); Douthit v. Jones, 641 F.2d 345, 346 (5th Cir.1981) (per curiam). None of these defendants was plaintiff's treating physician, and plaintiff does not allege any fact indicating any one or all of them knew plaintiff's serious medical needs were not receiving appropriate medical treatment. Plaintiff has utterly failed to state a claim on which relief can be granted against defendants NUSZ, RODEEN, and LIVINGSTON, or any of them.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons set forth above and pursuant to Title 28, United States Code, sections 1915A and 1915(e)(2), as well as Title 42, United States Code, section 1997e(a), it is the RECOMMENDATION of the Magistrate Judge to the United States District Judge that the Civil Rights Claims filed pursuant to Title 42, United States Code, section 1983, by plaintiff JAIME MENDEZ CUELLAR against defendant UY be DISMISSED WITH PREJUDICE AS FRIVOLOUS and against defendants NUSZ, RODEEN, and LIVINGSTON be DISMISSED WITHOUT PREJUDICE FOR FAILURE TO STATE A CLAIM ON WHICH RELIEF CAN BE GRANTED. Plaintiff may choose to submit an amended complaint curing the defects identified above on or before expiration of the period for filing Objections to this Report and Recommendation.
